

MIST MISTINGS

Frank Wilkins was a visitor at the state fair Thursday.

Mrs. J. W. Day visited with friends in Portland Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Copeland were in Portland Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Shinn were Portland visitors Tuesday.

Chris Mathieson spent Monday and Tuesday with friends in Portland.

Rev. A. S. Hisey was in Portland this week attending the annual Methodist conference.

B. J. Keelan was up from Deer Island Tuesday transacting business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Von A. Gray and children visited with relatives in Portland Sunday.

C. M. Jefferies of the Liberty theatre was a Portland visitor Tuesday.

The St. Helens Flour was used to make those excellent rolls served with the hot dogs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dillard and son Walden were state fair visitors this week.

Mrs. A. F. Barnett, Mrs. William Muckle and Mrs. C. H. Johns were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Fred Trow in Rainier.

Mrs. Sherman Miles came down from Portland Saturday afternoon to spend the week end with her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgus and son Fred motored to Clatskanie Sunday and spent the day with relatives there.

J. W. Van Natta, who has been in a Portland hospital for the past several weeks, has returned home and is much improved in health.

Among those from St. Helens who attended the state fair were J. W. Day and E. I. Ballagh, who motored up Thursday morning.

E. I. Ballagh returned Tuesday night from Astoria, where he was in consultation with officials of the Columbia River Packers association.

Taken Up—At my place, a stray heifer. Owner may have same by proving property and paying for cost of feed, etc. W. C. Coons, Bachelor Flat.

L. J. VanOrshoven came up from Clatsop to spend the week end at home. He has charge of a surveying crew on the Lewis & Clark railroad, which is being built to a large body of spruce.

John Morgus, of South Bend, Washington, was here this week on a visit to his brother, Henry Morgus.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Deming, John Deming and Miss Marguerite Rankin motored to Salem Wednesday morning. They are expected to return today, after having seen all the sights of the state fair.

John Southard expects to leave Monday for Seattle, Wash., to enter the University of Washington and Lawrence Davies will leave for Salem to resume his studies at the Willamette University.

William Eder, son of Mrs. John Wilverding of Trenholm, who is in the 46th artillery, writes his mother that his command has been ordered to an Atlantic port and they expect to soon be on the way to France.

Lieut. S. B. Hoskin came down from Camp Lewis Saturday afternoon and spent Sunday with friends here. He was accompanied by his friend, Captain Forbes of the Canadian army, who is an instructor at Camp Lewis.

Mrs. E. I. Ballagh and children left Monday for Montana where they will spend several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ballagh. Mr. Ballagh, who formerly conducted the Houlton bakery, now has a big ranch in Montana.

The fire department was called out Wednesday afternoon to take care of a brush fire near the old St. Helens quarry. Several houses were in danger, but the fire was put out before any damage was done.

E. E. Quick and A. J. Deming returned Monday from a fishing trip on the Nehalem. Going over they took the St. Helens-Pittsburg road and made very good time and coming back they chose the Mist-Clatskanie road and from Clatskanie via the highway.

Mrs. J. H. Wellington recently received a letter from her husband who is in the navy. He wrote from New York City and said he had been very busy on the sub-chaser, "Duke" is well and happy and glad to again be in the navy in which he served several years during the Spanish-American war.

Walden Dillard writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dillard, that he has been transferred (at his request) from the ordnance department, to the artillery and much to his delight and surprise he found himself among his old comrades from Oregon. Recently he was in Chateau-Thierry and headed for the front. Major White, formerly adjutant general in Oregon, is at the head of his battalion.

Miss Leonora Paulsen has accepted the position as teacher in the Trenholm school. Last year she taught near South Bend, Washington.

Fred Morgus intends to leave Monday for Portland to see if he cannot enter Reed college and take a special course, which will better fit him for army service.

C. A. Laws, who is attending a dental college in Portland, is here this week enjoying a vacation and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Laws.

Miss Ethel Smith is one of the willing Liberty Loan workers in St. Helens. To date she has secured $3600 in subscriptions for bonds and is still working, endeavoring to bring the total up to $5000.

Walter Chatfield and Colene Austin were united in marriage by Judge S. C. Morton at the courthouse on Thursday afternoon. The couple are from Scappoose.

Mrs. Orrilla Bertrand, who for the past several months has been a guest of her brother, Jesse Lansing, and her sister, Mrs. S. W. Irish, will leave tomorrow for her home in Spokane, Washington.

Mrs. Jack Applston, chairman of the Deer Island Fourth Liberty Loan committee and Mrs. Doris McDonald, wrote $3500 in Liberty Bonds at the Tide Creek Lumber Co., Tuesday noon. The men at this place will be 100 per cent.

Mrs. J. R. Ellison informs the Mist that the public library will be moved from the room in the city hall to the Guild hall tomorrow. Satisfactory arrangements have been made with the ladies of the Episcopal church to have the hall for at least one year.

George Conyers, candidate for county judge, has filed his petitions with the county clerk asking that his name be put on the ballot at the coming election. The other candidates are Martin White and W. J. Fullerton and each one thinks he has a good chance of election.

Some fly-by-night artist painted most of the sidewalks and some of the streets with flaring signs as to certain attractions which were to be in a local theatre. It is hardly possible that either Marshals Potter or Blakesley detected the sign painting or painter, else they would not have allowed it.

Kenneth Howell, who is a seaman aboard the U. S. S. Albatross, wires his father that he has been granted a 10 day leave of absence and traveling time and was to leave Key West, Florida for St. Helens today. Kenneth has been in the navy since April, 1917 and this will be his first visit home since enlisting.

Mrs. Roy A. Laws arrived Tuesday from California and is a guest at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Laws. Her husband expects to complete the officers' training course at the training school in Louisville, Ky., next week, and before reporting for further duty, will pay a short visit to the home folks here.

Deputy Game Warden Brown wishes the Mist to inform the hunters that the limit on pheasant this year is five and no hens should be killed. The pheasant season opens on the first of October. Recently, the state game department sent down several coops of pheasants and Clyde Sutherland distributed them on the farms near St. Helens.

The matter of getting questionnaires filled out is a serious one and Glen Metsker, chairman of the advisory board should appoint more members for St. Helens, as half of the associate members cannot be found in either the day or night time. It is said that many men at the Sommarstrom and St. Helens shipbuilding yards have much inconvenience on account of not having someone to help in filling out the questionnaires.

St. Helens will be well represented at the O. A. C. at Corvallis this year, as on Monday several young men will leave to enter that educational institution. Those who have made arrangements to go are, Edward Malin, Laurie Lind, William Perry, James Adams and William Phillips. Wesley Mays will leave the same day for Pullman, Washington, to enter the college there.

Dr. L. G. Ross, county health officer, has been requested by the state health officer to report any cases of influenza that may occur in the county. The request comes direct from Washington and the idea is to prevent, if possible, any of the drafted men taking the epidemic to cantonments. The assistance of all physicians in the county is asked by Dr. Ross, in the matter.

When you are tired of experiments and want the satisfaction that comes from experience, let Dr. Lowe make your glasses. Every day you delay having him do this you are losing much comfort and pleasure. He makes glasses for a great many people because many people have the confidence in him you will have once he makes your glasses. All you have guessed about him may not be true. Consult him Thursday, October 3 at St. Helens Hotel, about your eyes and glasses.

WHERE YOU SEE ALL THE BIG STARS

ON! ON TO VICTORY!

Belgium has been ruined - France debauched - Italy tormented by the heinous Hun. He has tortured England to the marrow; now he dares America.

Shall that challenge go unheeded? No!

Millions of us are moving on to the field of battle. Our sons and brothers are there today, they will be there tonight, risking their lives each second to move closer and closer to the lair of the raving-mad Hun.

Your job over here is to provide a giant stream of food, clothing, tanks, guns, shells and airplanes to the battle-line. This requires money. You must supply that. - - You dare claim no exemption.

The Fourth Liberty Loan is another sacred privilege for us at home unselfishly to do our part. You are buying bonds to win.

We're calling to our boys and to our allies -- "On, on to Victory!"

You must back them until the victory is won.
